STATE LAW UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

In the case of the Mallinckrodt Chem ical Company, of St. Louis, the Supreme Court today upheld the Missouri law compelling corporations to file affidavits that they are not members of any pool. trust or trade combination.

The Mallinckrodt Company had refused to file such an affidavit on the ground that the inquiries to which the aw required it to make answer were inquisitorial and unconstitutional." In consequence its charter had been reoked by the State. Several hundred other Missouri corporations have been awaiting the Supreme Court's opinion.

The court today reversed the Pennsylvania supreme court in finding Tony Rossi, of Lowellville, Ohio, guilty of selling liquor without license in Pennsylvania when he took orders in Lawrence county, and made deliveries across the river in his wagon. Rossi contended this was interstate, not subject to the State license.

The Kansas district court was upheld by the supreme court in its refusal to release George Ebeling from the Leavenworth penitentiary, after he had served three years for cutting open a mail sack near St. Louis. Ebeling had received five separate sentences of three years each for cutting open five sacks, and the district coure held he must serve fifteen court ruled the Kansas United The court ruled the Kansas United States district court was wrong in ordering the discharge of Alfonso J. Devine and Chilli Pfeiffer from the Leavenworth prison. The court held that two separate-sentences were properly given the men for breaking into a postoffice and stealing United States
